ed to the saddle, and tied to the fence when hounds run an unaccustomed line. The wealthier hunts maintain a year-round panelling crew which builds, keeps clean and repairs, while the smaller hunts depend to a considerable extent on landowning foxhunters to do this work.

Finally a word of caution. Permission to build and to jump panels is given by landowners only so that horsemen may follow hounds when they are being hunted by the hunt staff. No one, not even the Master, has a right to jump them at any other time without special permission from the landowner. Disregard for this rule can be and often is a prime source of trouble, particularly since we now have such numbers of children learning to ride and to jump -children who are apt to think such panels were built primarily to help them school their green ponies over fences.

Panelling and maintaining a country has become one of the major tasks of modern foxhunting, requiring time, thought, tools and materials. Even more necessary are good will and coperation. That is where we can all lend a hand.

Letters

Look Again Sourpuss

Dear Sir:

Reference the letter from "Sourpuss". entitled "To Hell With Kids", in your 9 September issue, no one could agree more than I, that there do exist such irritating "Susie and Mommy and Poppys" at just about every horse or pony show. However, let's give a cheer for, and give "Sourpuss" a glance into the life of Mother and Dad, and Susan, and maybe three or four more little ones. Here the scene changes, and we find a determined child, with an ardent love of horses, or anything horsey. Also, interested parents interested in helping their child develop some degree of proficiency in a sport that many find quite difficult, though highly rewarding.

These parents spend much to help Susan, but their spendings have no monetary value. What they give is hours of time and patience, helping their offspring learn to help herself.

With Susan, also, the pigtails go, and the lipstick comes, the figure develops, and the boys take a second look. What the male population finds in Susan, however, is a gal with spunk and drive, who is willing to combine dating with riding, but who is not about to jump over into another pasture because the grass looks greener. Instead, she will wait until the boy comes along who will open the gate

WARE WIRE

For something over a hundred years now the most spine chilling warning a foxhunter can hear is the cry of "Ware wire"! No matter how upstanding the fences, how deep the ditches or how broad the banks, those few strands of wire, barbed or woven, are still more fearsome. Before World War I, which means before the days of confiscatory income and inheritance taxes, most of the leading hunts in the British Isles could afford to take down the wire for the opening of the season, replacing it again in the spring. Alas, no more. Except in a few stone wall countries, such as Galway, the wire is here to stay.

Fortunately down through the years foxhunting has proved itself to be one of the most adaptable of sports, changing as the times have changed. In New Zealand, Australia and Tasmania, where interlaced pickets give the woven wire more visibility, horses have been schooled to jump it, while the mad Irish fly over their banks topped by a single strand of barbed wire with the firm belief (usually quite justified) that the little people will keep their horses' hooves from harm. In most countries, however, foxhunters prefer to tempt Fate in other ways and so build what in Britain are known as hunt jumps and in North America as panels.

Where there are more than 50 horsemen in the field, jumping panels, which has to be done singly or in pairs, can considerably reduce the opportunties of the tail-enders to see and hear hounds. Otherwise there are definite advantage to a panelled country. For one thing horses are assured of a reasonably sound take-off and landing and of an obstacle which will not cut or trap them if they fall. More important, it is possible to see far more of hounds in a wire country than when they are hidden by banks

The many devices evolved to avoid wire are ingenious and various. In England they started with flagging lengths of hedges where the wire had been taken down, but have since progressed to "tiger trans" and other obstacles only slightly less fearsome than wire itself. In this country we have replaced the wire topping sections of our stone walls with wooden riders and have panelled the wire fences with rails, boards, discarded railroad ties and "chicken coops", inverted V-shaped structures of boards nailed solidly together. In Tennessee they use a panel made of canvas, attach-

There Is A Tide

Raleigh Burroughs

Back in the days before air-conditioning, a parson had to put on a pretty good show on a summer Sunday night to keep the handle up to the operating minimum.

Fortunately, there was no television to buck and motion pictures were verboten by law in Baltimore, Therefore, young folk either went to church or devised games that did not disturb the stillness of the evening nor their elders.

A fine, old Methodist Episcopal clergyman, whom I was taking from at the time, had a sort of anthology that he used to drag out every year during the hot months. Most of the chapters were of personal experiences, and gave him a chance to brag about the good work he had done in the vineyard.

Regulars got to know which real-life tale would come up on what date.

On the second Sunday night in August, the reverend would deliver his favorite story and the most appreciated of his entire repertory. Many a tear was shed as the tragic tale was related and no lachrymal glands worked harder than those of our pastor.

The story described an episode in the life of a young woman who was no better nor no worse than, say, Mary Magdalene - before the raid.

The gentleman of the cloth was returning late of an evening, after a round of giving comfort and council to members of his congregation when he met Dora (that was the girl's name) who had been going the rounds but hadn't geen giving council.

The good reverend, while not one to look for evil, had ears, and he'd heard all about Dora.

An earnest and convincing talker, he went to work at once with his best oratory and soon Dora's resistance was broken down.

Any lad in the community would have declared that that was no trick at all, but the clergyman was working in the other direction. He convinced the lady of the folly of her ways, got her to promise to mend them and pointed her for home with the light of Methodist Episcopalism glowing in her misty eyes.

As there is more joy in heaven over the repentance of one sinner than over 1,000 righteous people, the man of the church went home feeling pretty good, too.

A Near Thing The next morning he felt even better - like a man who had won a photo decision.
And that's what had happened.

Dora had taken a short cut for home, and, absorbed as she was in elevating thoughts, had failed to notice the midnight flyer, which was only 37 minutes late that night. So she took the short cut to eternity, too.

Our pastor felt that the whole business was arranged by Providence and was very proud that he had been chosen as the instrument of salvation.

It never occurred to him that, if the late Dora hadn't stopped to talk with him, she'd have been in bed (and, presumably, home) when the late iron horse roared through the village.

Marcus Brutus, a switch-blade kid back in 27 B.C., used to say, "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." He added a warning: "Omitted, all the voyage of their life is bound in shallows and in miseries."

The happy conclusion to Dora's existence was related to show what can happen if someone takes the tide at its flood. Few people have been more promptly gathered into paradise. It is rare that anyone takes the tide like that good old clergyman and gets such satisfactory and immediate results.

More often it's the other way around, like the fellow who sold his American Motors at 8 7/8 and then watched it go up to 90-something and split four or five ways, or like what happened to Mr. Leo Nechamkin, admissions man who holds posts at numerous racecourses.

The tide came up and washed all over Leo, and all he did was bail. He did not know it was the one that leads on to fortunes.

Mr. Nechamkin had a mare, Pagan Kin, that was something short of being a Gallorette on the course, but possessed the characteristic most sought after by breeders in a destined broodmare.

She was a female.

Started Shopping

When he decided to forget about winning $100,000 with Pagan Kin at the racing wars, Mr. Nechamkin made up his mind to enter the field of Thoroughbred breeding. Like every wise horseman he looked around for the best stallion he could get at the most reasonable cost.

At that time, Messrs. Joe and Tom O'Farrell were trying to get a few entries in the book of a horse named Rough'n Tumble.

Marse Tom and Marse Joe got after Marse Leo and offered to do business.

Marse Leo looked over Rough'n Tumble and studied his credentials. The horse had won the Santa Anita Derby and he was by Free For All, out of the *Bull Dog mare, Roused. His performance had been satisfactory and his pedigree was good enough to brag about, but Mr. Nechamkin wouldn't buy.

The O'Farrells asked him where he could do better for the itsy-bitsy stud fee of $250.

Mr. Nechamkin didn't answer that question but he still said, "No." Marse Joe and Marse Tom kept on talking. "While the regular fee is $250," he said, "we know this horse is good and we like him very much, so we're very anxious to get mares for him. Seeing's it's you, we'll let you have a service for nothing."

That's as far as a man in that line of business can go.

Mr. Nechamkin refused to deal. He just stood there and watched the tide go out, not realizing he was being left in shallows and miseries.

He learned after a few years.

Bake and Edith Bought Some others had listened to the persistent O'Farrells. Among them were Bake

Belmont

The 38th running of The Cowdin at Belmont Park, Monday, October 3, produced fourteen starters, five of them having paid the $5,000 supplementary fee to get a chance at the $50,000 added purse. One of the five took the top money in the seven furlongs allowance stakes for 2-year-olds; the others ran out of the money.

Katherine Price's Carry Back, ridden by W. Hartack finished a length and onehalf in front of L. P. Sasso's Globemaster, who took place position by a neck over Harbor View Farm's Garwol. F. A. Sherman's Bronzerullah was fourth, a half length to the rear of Garwol. The winning time was 1.24 over a fast track against a wind in the backstretch.

Carry Back is a brown colt, by Saggy out of Joppy, by Star Blen, bred by J. A. Price, who also trains the youngster for his wife. The family operation netted $57,095. So far $102,695 has gone into the Price's till for Carry Back's three victories out of seventeen starts; he finished 2nd on four occasions and third the same number of times.

The Manhattan (Sat., Oct. 8)

Belmont Park's 59th running of The Manhattan Handicap drewnine three-year-olds and upwards. The route was one and one-half miles and the emolument was $50,000 added.

Jockey Sammy Boulmetis rode G. Ring's *Don Poggio to a neat three-length victory over Ken-Love Farm's Amber Morn, Mrs. Q. A. Shaw McKean's Polylad was third and L. G. Burns' Eddie Smith, fourth. The winner's time was 2.03 3/5 for the 1 1/2 miles.

*Don Poggio is a 4-year-old chestnut colt, by Los Curros out of Caracocha, by Baluarte, bred in Argentina by the Haras Martin Fierro. It was his fourth winning run out of ten starts this year and netted his connections $36,255. R. L. Dotter trains the Argentine import.

Atlantic City

Atlantic City offered $15,000 added money to two-year-olds foaled in New Jersey in its 10th running of The Home Bred Handicap, Wed., Oct. 4. The new Jersey-breds were asked to run six furlongs.

P. and W. Stable's Anna Dee nosed out Ruff Acres Farm's Alerted Girl, but was disqualified and placed second for swerving to the outside and brushing Alerted Girl twice. Mrs. G. S. Howell's El Greco was third and Mrs. L. Jarvis, Jr.'s Gray Ridge fourth in the field of seven. The clockers timed the winner in 1.11 4/5 for the six furlongs, over a fast track.

Alerted Girl is a bay filly, by Alerted out of Girl Crazy, by Blue Swords, bred by Ruff Acres and trained by S. J. Smith. Jockey W. Hartack was in the saddle. Alerted Girl earned $10,582.50 for her winning effort.

Garden State

The Jersey Belle Stakes featured the racing card at Garden State Park on Saturday, October 8. An allowance stakes for 3-year-old fillies, it required a run of one and one-sixteenth miles and drew thirteen starters for the $25,000 added bait.

Christiana Stable's had the winner in Undulation who breezed to a seven length score over Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Sister Antoine. Mrs. L. L. Boigt, Jr.'s Vanairess was the show horse and Mrs. B. S. Wright, Jr.'s Improve crossed the wire in fourth position. The winner was timed at 1.43 3/5 over a fast track.

Undulation is a chestnut filly, by Polynesian out of Orientation, by Questionnaire, bred by Brookmeade Stable, H. S. Clark trains her and E. Nelson rode the winner. The triumph netted $19,142,50, It was the first stakes victory for Undulation. She was carrying 112 pounds and rewarded her supporters with $30.40 for a two dollar investment. The filly now has returned a career net of $39,009 to her owner, Harry Lunger of Wilmington, Del., master of Christiana Stable.

Hawthorne

A small field of six 2-year-olds went to the post in Hawthorne's 34th running of The Hawthorne Juvenile Handicap, on Saturday, Oct. 8. The handicap stakes at one and one-sixteenth miles carried a purse of $35,000 added, Jockey J. L. Rotz rode J. G. Brown's On His Metal to a two and one-half lengths victory over Crimson King Farm's Crimson Fury. Wilson and Mrs. Hull, Jr.'s Cease Firing was third and Mrs. H. J. Damm's Arab Road, fourth. The winnr ran the 1 1/16 miles in 1/42 3/5.

On His Metal is a bay colt, by Roman out of the Brookfield mare Jenjay, bred by L. J. Tutt. Trainer J. Lowenstein saddled the colt for his first stakes triumph, which netted $26,300. It was his third victory in ten starts.

Keeneland

Keeneland Race Course featured The Fayette Handicap, on Saturday, Oct. 8, and it brought out a field of nine 3-year-old or older horses. The added value of the race was $15,000 and the distance one and one-eighth miles.

Jockey W. A. Peake rode J. C. Hauer's Little Fitz to win over Toby's Brother, ridden by W. M. Cooke. H. Hinjosa was on Better Bee, the show horse. Aesthetic and Lone Wolf deadheated for fourth money. The time for the 1 1/8 miles was 1.49 3/5.

Little Fitz is a 5-year-old chestnut gelding, by Crafty Admiral-Ari's Mona, by Kings Blue, bred by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hauer. Little Fitz added $11,255 to his earnings.

PICKING UP WEIGHT

Imagine the surprise of a couple of trainers at Rockingham Park when they suddenly found they had five more pounds on their horses than they had counted on.

It happened when Apprentice Jimmie Testa came up with three winners. He lost his apprentice allowance on the first winner, thereby picking up the five extra pounds on his mounts from then on.

You can imagine how you would feel if you had carefully pointed a horse for a spot and had finally gotten enough stars to get him in at the right weight and then find that, thru no fault of your own, your beast was carrying five more pounds than you had planned on.

It worked out all right though because Testa got wins number 41 and 42 in the third and fifth races after he had achieved his 40th win and lost his apprentice allowance earlier the same afternoon.

Rolling Rock Hunt Races

(1st Day)

Chris Wood, Jr.

The opening session of the Rolling Rock Hunt Racing Association's 23rd annual meeting and the opening of the world series in Pittsburgh both fell on Wednesday, October 5. Favored with summer-like weather, the meeting at Ligonier, Pa., was not bothered to a great extent by the big baseball playoff. At least some 5,000 followers of hunt racing gathered on the hillsides to witness an enjoyable day of sport. Although the original program was riddled with declarations, close finishes prevailed with the light, but well-matched fields.

Rolling Rock Hunt Cup

Only 5 starters contested the $3,000 Rolling Rock Hunt Cup, a 2-mile steeple-chase which serves as a prelude to the featured $7,500 International Gold Cup on Saturday. However, it was a thrilling contest, with Major General Richard K. Mellon's *Venetian Glass and the Grand-view Stable's *Kandy-Sugar, the eventual winner, making it a 2 horse race.

Over the 1st of 13 brush fences, Miss Jane Flaccus' Bold Visitor led *Venetian Glass by a length, with Mrs. Amory H. Hutchinson's It Happened Fast, *Kandy-Sugar, and Thaddeus R. Trout's *Chicago 2nd following as named. Making a debut over obstacles, Bold Visitor's advantage was short-lived as he came down over the 2nd fence, without injury to himself or jockey Evan Jackson.

Following this mishap, *Venetian Glass assumed command with It Happened Fast furnishing contention. The latter pressed the winner until the 7th brush fence in front of the grandstand, where he fell without injury to Ronald Houghton. Responding to A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick in the final stages, *Kandy-Sugar moved up to challenge *Venetian Glass, winner of last year's International Gold Cup, under James Murphy. Working on their mounts in the uphill run to the 13th and final fence, the riders shoved their mounts over in unison, with *Kandy-Sugar showing a nose in front on landing. Plying the leather, Smithwick moved his mount ahead and scampered under the wire with a 2length advantage. Never in contention, *Chicago 2nd finished 3rd, 20 lengths in the wake of *Venetian Glass.

A good winner over hurdles, *Kandy-Sugar made his debut over brush a winning one in 4:12 over firm turf. The triumph was a popular one as the Grandview Stables are owned by Harry B. Massey of Pittsburgh. A small horse for the demanding brush jumps, *Kandy-Sugar is a 5-year-old Irish-bred gelding by Stardust-Bonbon. He will no doubt be returned to hurdle racing as the gelding is a nominee to the $15,000 added New York Turf Writers Cup, a 2-mile hurdle handicap to be held on October 20, the 1st day of th 2-day meeting of the United Hunts Racing Association at Belmont Park.

A. M. Byers III Cup

The secondary attraction on the program, the A. M. Byers 3rd Cup, brought out 5 neophyte timber campaigners to contest the 2 1/2 mile race over 15 timber fences. Taking command soon after the break, Mrs. William D. Hail's Full Stop resisted bids from Miss Marlyn Reid's Ben Cover throughout the running. Leading over the final fence by 3 lengths, rider-trainer H. C. (Jiggs) Baldwin 3rd moved Full Stop away from Ben Cover to score by 4 lengths. Paul C. Baldwin's Fairplex finished 3rd, with Miss Jane Flaccus' Bakerstown and Samuel F. Pancoast's Charming Breeze a well-distanced 4th and 5th. Handled by apprentice jockey C. King, the latter fell over the 7th jump and was remounted to complete the course. In registering his 1st victory for his Nashville, Tenn. owner, Full Stop negotiated the course in 5:19. Last spring the 11-year-old gelding won the Western Run Plate at Butler, Md. in the silks of Elkins

Claiming Hurdle Race

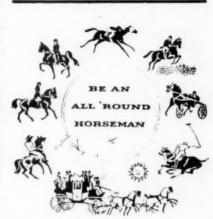

The opening race on the program, the Rector brought out 5 contestants to vie for honors in the 1 3/4 miles hurdle race for claiming horses. Running with a claiming tag of $4,000, Mrs. Cordelia Scaife May's December led for most of the journey over 10 hurdles to win by 2 1/2 lengths. Best of the balance, the Coventry Rock Stable's *Sir Patsy was 2nd, 2 lengths ahead of the veteran Caste, representing the Arcadia Stables. Last year's leading 'chase rider, James Murphy handled the winner who was timed in 3:50 1/5.

Making a second start over hurdles, C. Mahlon Kline's 3-year-old home-bred, Gowran proved far superior to his 6 competitors in the Malcolm McGiffin Cup, a 1 7/8 miles event for maiden hurdlers. Taking command after following Mrs. E. H. Carle's Cumberland Gap over 7 of the 8 hurdles, Gowran drew away from the faltering Cumberland Gap to win by 3 1/2 lengths under Edwin Deveau, L. Clay Camp's Robert J. finished 3rd, just 4 lengths behind the place horse. By Slam Bang-Sea Pep, the sophomore graduated the maiden ranks in the good time of 3:20 2/5.

In a recent maiden hurdle race at Far Hills, N. J., L. Clay Camp's *Tantot appeared to have broken down and was pulled up by jockey Scott Riles, who dismounted and led his lame mount back to the barn. The gelding managed a quick recovery as he made mince-meat of his field in the Ligonier Purse, a 1-mile turf test which closed the 1stday of racing at Rolling Rock, Handled by his ridertrainer, Harry Hatcher, *Tantot permitted the Rappahannock Farms' Rapscallion and Mrs. T. A. Randolph's Wallis to force the early pace. Responding to Hatcher's whip, *Tantot caught Rapscallion in the stretch and drew away to win by 2 1/2 lengths. The latter finished 2nd, 3 lengths to the good of Major General Richard K. Mellon's home-bred, Bigamist. Wallis tired to be 4th, a length behind Bigamist. Registering his 1st victory of the year, *Tantot covered the 1-mile turf course in 1:34.

"FLY" BID

You've heard the old thing about a man's swishing a fly away at an auction and ending up with a Ming vase or an expensive yearling. Well, the latter is actually supposed to have happened.

THE CHRONICLE

A couple of years ago, Mr. Darwin E. Loveman of Bedford, Ohio arranged with the auctioneer at one of the big yearling auctions that certain movements of his hand, head, or program would convey raises of so and so much over the outstanding bid. The idea was to conceal Mr. Loveman's bidding from the others interested in any animal under consideration, (Wouldn't it be amusing if everybody did that. There would not be a word said, but arms would be waving. people would be swishing their programs and scratching non-existant itches, other people would be brushing non-existant flies away, and so on while the bids would climb until the last itch or fly swat got the horse, all of this being in complete silence except for a slap, wallop, or scratch here and there.)

Anyhow, Mr. Loveman's signal for another $1,500 was to touch his forehead with his hand. You know the rest. A fly lit on his forehead and Mr. Loveman swated it and got himself a yearling by The Doge out of Zaca Days. The bid was $5,400 when the fly bit happened. Mr. Loveman got the animal (colt) for $6,900.

The original name selected for the new acquisition was The Fly but The Jockey Club turned it down (and lets go such as Fat Roundone, Geechee Lou, and Spit Ball). The animal was eventually named Beechmont and he all but paid for the fly in his first time out winning $1,400. Expensive fly. R. J. Clark

Showing a return to the form which made him the outstanding four-year-old 'chaser in 1958, Montpelier's Benguala outran and outjumped his rivals to score a convincing six length victory in the 52nd running of the Brook Steeplechase Handicap on Thursday, September 29th. It was the second victory in this famous jumping classic for the Annapolis-Bennu gelding, and like the 1958 edition, Neji and Independence were defeated by the winner.

Benguala carried 148 lbs., and was smoothly ridden by Albert Foot, Gridiron, which was purchased by L. Clay Camp of Charlottesville, Va., the day preceding the race, had the services of his regular jockey, Eddie Deveau, and for a turn of the field set a smart pace with Cartagena (150) and Independence (159) in close attendance. Going by the stands the second time, Tommy Walsh moved forward on Independence, challenged Gridiron for the lead and then went into command over the seventh. Meanwhile Foot had laid off the pace and while jumping well, ran in fourth position six or seven lengths away. Sun Dog (147), *Romeo (135) and Neji (159) followed in that order.

Rounding into the far side the last time, Gridiron retreated to seventh and last place in the field, and Neji displaced *Romeo for fifth. Out in front, Independence held sway by daylight, with Scottie Schulhofer on Cartagena next about a length in front of Benguala. Sun Dog and Neji raced on equal terms in fourth and fifth place and were very much in contention midway down the far side. with Paddy Smithwick still sitting quietly on the Phipps' champion, Going to the last jump on the back side Schulhofer made a bid with Cartagena, and may have briefly got to the front, but Independence outjumped him and regained the lead, while on the outside, Foot moved with authority on Benguala. Challenging Independence around the turn, the Montpelier homebred disposed of the former turning into the stretch, met the final fence about two on top, and then increased his advantage on the flat to win easily.

Independence was three and a half lengths to the fore of Cartagena, which in turn was an equal distance in front of Sun Dog. Neji again disappointed and was a well beaten fifth, although at no time during the running did Paddy Smithwick really get into the handsome chestnut. The time of 4:42 1/5 was slightly two seconds slower than the course record, but impressive from a time point of view because the footing was on the soft side, and the railing on the turns, extended the distance slightly.

Benguala, now a 6-year-old, was the best young 'chaser of 1958, and is best remembered for his thrilling nosevictory over Neji in the Gwathmey that year, when the latter essayed to carrying the crushing impost of 176 lbs, and just missed by the slimmest margin. Returning to the races the following year late in the season, Benguala was unplaced in three of his starts. In the current year he won his initial start in an allowance race, in receipt of weight from most of his rivals. He later defeated Chambourg by a nose in the Meadow Brook at the Belmont Spring meeting, but in three subsequent starts failed to show winning form.

With many of the better brush campaigners now on the shelf, trainer Ray Woolfe holds a strong hand in the National and the Gwathmey, with Benguala and Nala appearing to have the stamina, ability and experience to capture both races. A double victory for either of these Montpelier owned 'chasers may cement honors as leading "chaser of 1960".

Last Page Wins

On opening day, Monday, Sept. 26th, Last Page, the newly acquired three-yearold racing for Happy Hill Farm, won his second start with consumate ease, coming up to the wire half a dozen lengths to the fore of Montpelier's Kamsin, which held under a furious drive to hold Sky's Rythmn by a thin nose for the place position. Six lengths further back, Cathness got up to share in the minor share of the purse designed for three-year-old winners. *Duggan's Dew II, a stablemate of the winner, running for Allison Stern, of the winner, running for Allison Stern, made most of the pace in this mile and half test over hurdles, but surrendered his advantage over the last hurdle on the far side, and was just beaten for fourth money.

Last Page was ridden by Joe Aitcheson, Jr., and was reserved off the pace until nearing the last hurdle on the far side. then took command going to the turn, and won as he pleased. He was bred by Mrs. C. E. Adams, and was sired by *Morocco Bound, which raced over jumps some years ago, and came from an obscure mare, Gamelle by Pougatchev. He won his first start under the colors of the breeder's son, Dooley Adams, the leading steeplechase rider until he retired several years ago. Shortly after his initial victory, Last Page was acquired by Mr. and Mrs. Cortright Wetherell, and on the strength of his two easy wins, looms up as one of the better three-year-old developments of the season.

MRS. MARKEY SAID NO

Because Calumet Farm was putting emphasis on distance running rather than raw-speed three years ago, Fred W. Hooper may well end up with first money in the world's richest horse race and the 1960 juvenile championship.

Hooper, Coral Gables, Fla. contractor, is the owner of Crozier, a leading contender for The Garden State, which will decide 2-year-old racing honors here October 29.

Crozier is from the mare Miss Olympia, sired by Hooper's Olympia, far-famed as a stallion whose produce can run "a hole in the wind" at sprint distances. Crozier is by the English sire, My Babu, which stands at Leslie B. Combs' Spendthrift Farm. Originally, Miss Olympia was to be bred to Calumet Farm's Mark Ye Well - and there's your story.

"This was some years ago," relates Hooper, "I made a deal with the Calumet farm manager to swap a stud season to Olympia for Mark-Ye-Well. The mare, of course, was Miss Olympia. Mark-Ye-Well was just getting started then and Olympia was a proven sire.

"I finally got a letter from the manager saying that the Calumet owner, Mrs. Gene Markey, had nixed the deal. She didn't want anything to do with sprinting blood. Well. I had the letter with me at Hialeah one day - this must be three years ago last winter - and I showed it to Mrs. Markey. She said she was sorry, but that was that.

"I was with John Galbreath and Leslie Combs, and I told them about it. They both said they'd be glad to swap, I could send Miss Olympia to any stallion they had. Galbreath and I had already done a little business, so I said I'd get together with Combs. That's how I happened to breed to *My Babu."

An interesting footnote is the Calumet policy has been changed and Mrs. Markey is now sending mares to Olympia.

TANFORAN'S NEW OWNERS

Eugene Mori, who owns and operates the Garden State and Hialeah tracks in New Jersey and Florida, has sold the Tanforan Track, San Bruno, Calif., near San Francisco, to a group largely composed of residents of that city, including David Moore, Joseph Blumenfeld, Edward Rosston, William Gilmore, Melville Marx and Louis Petri. Other directors are Samuel Briskin of Hollywood, Frederick Brisson of New York and Hollywood, and Henry Lewis III of New York, who is also secretary of the U. S. Polo Association.

LITTLE TUMBLER SOLD

The crack 2-year-old filly Little Tumbler (Royal Note-Fairy Dancer, by *Blenheim II), winner this year of the Futurity, Astoria and Colleen Stakes, has been sold by the Meadowbrook Stable to Bruno Ferrari, president of the Latrobe Construction Co. of Latrobe, Pa., who plans to race the filly in the East during the remainder of the fall.

HIALEAH'S SIDEWALK CAFE

Eugene Mori, Jr., executive vice president of Hialeah Park, has been in charge of renovating the paddock area before the opening of the winter meeting on January 17th. The walking ring area, formerly all grass, which suffered from the feet of the onlookers during the course of the meeting, has been replaced by grass "islands" with paved walking strips between. Eighty-five palm trees have been relocated and more added. A special feature is a Europen type sidewalk cafe bordered by aviaries containing rare birds from Africa, South and Central America.

Pamela Smith of Los Angeles, California, 11-year-old star of 20th Century Fox's movie "Misty of Chincoteague" from the book by Marguerite Henry. While the film was being made on location (Chincoteague and Assateague Islands, Virginia) Pamela achieved a life long ambition to visit the Virginia foxhunting country. She is here shown in Peruvian costume and riding a Peruvian horse at Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Va., one of the leading stud farms in the world, with the owner. the present Mrs. M. E. Person.

FALL-WINTER STAKES PROGRAM OFFERS HORSEMEN $5,000,000

Not too many years ago when Labor Day came around horsemen began thinking about a place to winter their stock. The picture is entirely different today. Owners and trainers are now waiting confirmation of their applications for stalls at tracks in Florida, Louisiana and California and meanwhile there is still plenty of lucrative racing "up North".

Thoroughbred racing has become a year-around operation with meetings closing later and opening earlier in areas which once shut down in mid-September and didn't reopen until the following mid-April. Racing will continue in New York until December 1; in Maryland until December 15 and in New England until December 10. "Spring" meetings will get under way in February.

Today the season wanes only in a quantitative sense; top quality racing will continue through the fall and winter with stakes events worth a total of almost $5,000,000 scheduled at Thoroughbred Racing Associations' member tracks between September 21, 1960 and April 30. 1961. Almost 200 stakes races are listed in the TRA's Fall and Winter Stakes Schedule just issued. Included on this schedule are 12 events each with $100,000 added and several more that will gross $100,000 or more. Among these are two important stakes for 2-year-olds which may well crown the champion in that rather scrambled division; Aqueduct's Champagne Stakes on October 15, and The Garden State on October 29. Among the important events for the older horses are: The Woodward Stakes at Aqueduct on September 24; The Man o'War Stakes to be run at Belmont Park on October 22; The Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct on October 29 and the Washington, D. C. International at Laurel on November 11.

First of the $100,000 races in 1961 will be the Santa Anita Maturity, an event for 4-year-olds exclusively on January 28. Other events to which the track will add $100,000 to the nomination and starting fees are: Hialeah's Widener Handicap for 3-year-olds and up on February 18; The Flamingo, for 3-year-olds at Hialeah and the Santa Anita Handicap for 3 & up, both on February 25; the Santa Anita Derby. for 3-year-olds on March 4 and the San Juan Capistrano, a turf course event at Santa Anita on March 11.

PIMLICO FALL STAKES

The Dixie Handicap, the 9th oldest race in America and the oldest race in Maryland, will be run in the Autumn Meeting for the first time since its inception at Pimlico in 1870, Its distance will be increased to 1 1/2 miles and the race will be run on the grass course on Thanksgiving Day for a purse of $25,000 added. The 38th Pimlico Futurity for 2year-olds with a gross purse of about $115,000 will be run on Saturday, November 19th.

The $100,000 Washington D. C. International at Laurel Race Course on November 11 has in its lineup the most powerful trio of American horses in its nineyear history and shapes up as the race which will decide Horse of the Year honors.

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, owner of the Brookmeade Stable, has accepted the invitation of the American Selection Committee to run her Sword Dancer in Laurel's mile and a half grass classic. Sword Dancer, Horse of the Year in 1959 joins Cain Hoy Stable's Bald Eagle, winner of last year's International, and Turfland's Bally Ache, the Preakness winner, as America's representatives at Laurel against a strong field of foreign invaders.

Until recently, Bald Eagle seemed to have 1960 Horse of the Year honors sewed up. But in the $100,000 Woodward Stakes at Aqueduct, Sword Dancer upset the Cain Hoy five-year-old to place himself squarely in contention again. The Woodward was the race that made Sword Dancer the top horse of 1959 when he turned back the mighty Round Table and the California Champion Hillsdale.

After winning the title, Sword Dancer went into an unaccountable slump in Florida when he lost twice to Bald Eagle. But once he returned to his favorite New York haunts, Sword Dancer started running again and won the $60,000 added Gray Lag Handicap and established an Aqueduct track record in the $100,000 Suburban Handicap. In the Woodward, he smashed his own record.

Bald Eagle, who defeated the best horses from Europe, Australia, and South America in the 1959 International and was the big reason Cain Hoy became the world's leading money-winning stable last year, has enjoyed an even bigger 1960 season. He has won a trio of $100,000 races and the $50,000 Aqueduct Handicap, and has set track records at Hialeah and Aqueduct.

Bally Ache has won no less than six stakes this season, including the Flamingo, Florida Derby, Preakness, and Jersey Derby. While training for the Belmont Stakes in June, he sustained a slight injury which kept him out of action until Labor Day. In his first competition since returning to the races, Bally Ache led until 120 yards from the wire before finishing third in the $100,000 United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City on September 17. Trainer Jimmy Pitt and jockey Bobby Ussery said after the race that he is in perfect shape again and may be even better than he was last spring.

DARIO WILL MANAGE BERKSHIRE DOWNS

B. A. Dario, managing director and treasurer of Lincoln Downs, Lincoln, R.I., has accepted the same post at Berkshire Downs, the new half-mile track which recently opened at Hancock, Mass., which is four miles from Pittsfield and five miles from the New York State line.

*SAILOR'S GUIDE ENTERS STUD

*Sailor's Guide, the syndicate-owned, one-time pride of the Australian turf, has been retired from racing. He had been assigned 120 pounds for the 1960 renewal of the invitational United Nations Handicap. However, his trainer, J. Bowes Bond, and owners deemed it reasonable to retire the eight-year-old to prepare him for his forthcoming stud career. The Australian-bred horse of English and French lineage was vanned from his training quarters at Atlantic City to Meadowview Farm in Moorestown, New Jersey, where he will make his initial season at the stud next year.

The black son of the English sire Lighthouse II out of Jehane, by Legend of France was foaled in Australia only a few months after his dam was exported there from England in 1952. His career on the turf Down Under earned him some $184,900 and the undying devotion of racing fans in Australia where he was a great public favorite. His widespread popularity was demonstrated at the time of his departure to accept the invitation to the Washington, D. C. International at Laurel. Thousands of well-wishers crowded the ports-of-call made by his ship at such South Pacific points at Tasmania and Pago Pago to bid farewell to the horse who had won their admiration and esteem.

In addition to a striking number of victories in Classic events, *Sailor's Guide is credited with having dealt Tulloch his only major defeat, accomplished in the Queen Elizabeth under an impost of 129 pounds in which he gave Tulloch 15 pounds and equalled the course record for the mile and five-furlongs. Many turf specialists regard him the best Australian-bred to leave that country since Phar Lap.

In the running of the 1958 International *Sailor's Guide romped home some three lengths behind Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era, but was declared the winner when the stewards disqualified Tudor Era for interference and placed him second. Arrangements for his sale to the American syndicate headed by Dr. Leon Levy of Jaclyn Stable had been completed prior to the race. The new owners, expected originally to put him immediately in the stud, then mapped out another campaign for the champion. Those plans were interrupted by a training accident at Santa Anita on the last day of December, 1958, *Sailor's Guide rested for six months.

then resumed his campaign. Among his victories since that time have been the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Woodbine and the John R. Macomber Memorial Handicap at Suffolk Downs. He won $300,000.

*Sailor's Guide now occupies the stud barn at Meadowview where the famed John P. Grier was once the tenant. He has joined the syndicate-owned Your Host and Mrs. F. Wallis Armstrong, Jr.'s Slide Rule at the breeding center. He will stand at private contract.

In addition to Jaclyn Stable, syndicate shareholders include Cisley Stable, Daniel G. Kelly, Miss Virginia Helis, Mrs. Milton Erlanger, the Estate of Alfred De Cozen and Mrs. Armstrong.

ATOLL RETIRED TO STUD

The 4-year-old brown stallion Atoll Flushing II-Coral Island, by Errard), bred by the Four Way Ranch of George Schneider and Cecil Haden and raised at the former's Over The Grass Farm near The Plains, Va., will make the 1961 season at the Mackle Brothers' farm near Lake Placid, Fla. At 2 he won the Remsen and Myles Standish Stakes and finished second in the Great American, Cowdin, and Mayflower Stakes. Last year he won the Swift and Gotham Stakes and the Lamplighter and Longport Handicaps and was second in the Choice Stakes and the Ocean City and Benjamin Franklin Handicaps. He won his first start this year, but went lame thereafter.

KEENELAND YEARLINGS BRING RECORD GROSS

The number of yearlings consigned to the Keeneland Fall Sales was the largest ever - 734 as compared with 727 sold year. They brought a record $1,910,000 during the ten sessions for an average of $2,602. Top of the sale was the colt by Traffic Judge out of Piccalilli, by Citation sold by John S. Kenney for which Mrs. Adele Rand paid $23,000. The top filly, consigned by Tilford Wilson and Jess Curry, was a chestnut daughter of Royal Note-Laila's Comet, by Teddy's Comet for which Thomas H. Heard Jr., as agent, paid $11,000. The new dates, avoiding previous conflicts, worked out remarkably well.

Wilwyn won the first Laurel International in record time and was ridden by the English jockey E. Mercer who was killed at Ascot.

Bred by his owner, Mr. Boucher, at Teynham, Kent., and trained by George Colling he won twice as a two-year-old, 3 races as a 3-year-old, 11 races as a 4-year-old and 5 races as a 5-year-old before going to stud at the 'Phantom Stud' Newmarket (the Hon. Mrs. George Lambton), His principal wins were Free Handicap, Rous Memorial Stakes, Ascot, Great Yorkshire Stakes, Washington D. C. International, Ellesmere Stakes and Limekiln Stakes, Newmarket.

BLUE RIDGE HUNT

Millwood, Clarke County, Virginia. Established 1888 Recognized 1904

The Blue Ridge Hunt of Millwood has started cubbing and will continue through October 28. The Joint Masters Alfred Allen and Richard Dole, report that the pack of 21 couples are fit, ready and in good discipline. Much interest has been expressed in the two couple of hounds that have just come from the Quorn Hunt in England.

Even at the early hour of 7:30 a.m., sixteen riders assembled at Stone Bridge on a recent Saturday morning. Foxes were plentiful. Despite the presence of deer and the fact that many young hounds were out, the pack followed true on the scent of the hunted fox.

The Opening Meet of the regular foxhunting season of the Blue Ridge Hunt will be at 9:30 a.m. at Carter Hall in Millwood, on October 29. E.B.C.

HUNT AFTER GIMCRACK DINNER

There is to be an interesting innovation in connection with this years' Gimcrack Dinner at York - long one of the most important sporting and social events of each year.

The Earl of Halifax, chairman of the York Race Committee, (which body actually is the Gimcrack Club), is to have a fixture of the Middleton Hounds (of which he is senior joint-Master) at Garrowby on the morning following the December dinner. Nearly half those who attend give a blaze of colour by wearing the evening uniform of their various Hunts. This year many of them will bring two red coats one for the evening, the other to wear when they appear at Lord Halifax's new home to enjoy a day with his hounds.

There is something very fitting about this extension of the Gimcrack dinner programme to the morning after. Time was when there was always cub-hunting on the morning's of York races. During Doncaster race week, Thursday was given up to hunting, and there were cubbing fuxtures arranged each morning within easy reach, both in the Badsworth and Sandbeck countries. In addition it must never be forgotten that it was, in the main, hunting men who founded the Turf. The bonds betwixt the twain have continued right down the ages.

It is a happy thought of Lord Halifax's, whose fellow members on the York Race Committee are Lord Hotham M.F.H. the Earl of Feversham, M.F.H. Lord Grimthorpe ex-M.F.H., Major Gordon Foster ex-M.F.H., Lt-Col. W.L. Kirby, and Mr. M. Wickham-Boynton (whose father was long M.F.H.). J. F.-B.

EARLY FOXHOUND FIELD TRIALS

According to "The Chase", the Brunswick Foxhound Club held their first field trials at Albany Hills, Maine, in November 1889. E. L. Toothaker's Bugle won the Derby. His hound Modest Girl (Drum-Yum Yum) won third. It is stated that Modest Girl was also a bench winner of note. Gerry and Emmon's Hunter was second in the Derby. No addresses were given and no breeding on the first and second winners.

The All-Age Championship that first year was won by L. O. Dennison's Ben Butler (Jeff-Bell Buckfield). They evidently held their first bench show at Barre. Massachusetts, October, 1913. Dr. A. C. Heffenger's Prompter (Cable-Push) won Best Dog. His Lucy Ray (Rough-Ray) Best

The National was organized in December, 1893, by eight or ten foxhunting gentlemen while visiting and hunting in the home and country of the Col. Val and Maj. Billy Young, of Waverly, Mississippi. The first bench show was held in 1908 at Crab Orchard, Ky.

HORSE AND MULE CENSUS

Although horses and mules on farms declined slightly in 1960 as compared to 1959, their value increased from $318,753, 000 to $344,708,000. Horses and mules on farms January 1, 1960 totaled 3,089,000, two per cent below the 3,142,000 head on January 1, 1959, and 44 per cent below the 1949-58 average of 5,482,000, according to the Crop Reporting Board of the Agricultural Marketing Service, Although numbers continued downward during 1959, the rate of decline was the smallest since

Mr. Robert R. Daly and his daughter Kathy at the Essex Fox Hounds Race Meeting, Far Hills, N. J. Mr. Daly is a contributor to the meeting and his daughter until a short time ago was a horse show exhibitor in the hunter and horsemanship (Carl Klein Photo)

1940, and compares with a drop of six per cent during both 1957 and 1958. Horses and mules two years old and over, at 2,893,000 head, were 2 per cent less than on January 1, 1959, but colts under two years old, at 196,000 head, were 3 per cent higher than the previous year. A decline in horse and mule numbers is expected to continue, since colts under two years account for only 6 per cent of the total number. Slaughter of horses under Federal inspection totaled 73,323 head in 1959, down 32 per cent from 1958.

Line Breeding Chart

Leroy Sked

(EDITORS NOTE: Mr. LeRoy Sked has practiced line breeding for more than 50 years and has found it successful in breeding hounds as well as poultry and rabbits.)

The black lines represent the blood of the male, and the dotted lines show the blood of the female. The groups of off-spring from the various matings are indicated by circles numbered from 3 to 18. Beside each of these circles are fractions showing the quantity of male blood and female blood, respectively, in each group.

A detailed explanation of the chart may be made as follows: The first year the original male 1 and female 2 are mated and produce the offspring in groups 3, the blood of each of the individuals of which comes half from male 1 and half from female 2.

The second year female 2 is mated to one of her own sons from 3 and produces 4, a group in which each of the dogs derives three-fourths of its blood from female 2 and one-fourth of its blood from male 1. Similarly, the second year male 1 is mated to one of his own daughters from group 3 and produces 5, a group in which each of the dogs derives three-fourths of its blood from male 1 and one-fourth of its blood from female 2.

The third year a male from 4 is mated with female 2, who is his grandmother, to produce 6. Each of the dogs in 6 will thus derive seven-eighths of its blood from female 2, and only one-eighth from male 1. Likewise, in the third year, one or more females from 5 are mated with male 1 to produce 8. Each of the dogs in 8 will thus derive seven-eighths of its blood from the original sire 1 and only one-eighth from female 2. In the same year, females from 4 and males from 5, or vice versa, will produce 7, a group in which each of the dogs will derive half of its blood from male I and half from female 2. The members of 7 will thus have the same blood elements as those of 3. Considered from a theoretical standpoint only, it would be possible to obtain the same results, that is, dogs with the same blood elements as those in 7, by mating together full brothers and sisters from 3, but this is not considered an advisable practice, because the mating of brother and sister hastens degeneration.

The fourth year the groups 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13 are produced, and the fifth year the groups 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 are produced by the matings that are indicated by the lines on the chart.

The chart shows only a few generations, but it is, of course, capable of indefinite extension; or it may be used without any extension. Thus, if a pair of dogs be selected from any group as, for example, from group 18, the male may be regarded as 1 and the female as 2 and the chart will serve as before. The groups 3, 7, 11, and 16, which are equally distant from the sides, show an equal quantity of male and female blood from the original pair. The groups on the right of these have an excess of male blood, and those on the left an excess of female blood. To find the fractions showing the proportion of male to female blood in any group, it is necessary only to have the blood in the two groups from which the group in question is derived. Thus, group 18 comes from groups 11 and 13. In these the blood of the female represented by 2 is 1/2, 3/16 or 11/16. This divided by 2 gives 11/32 as the quantity of blood from 2; and 1/2, 13/16 or 21/16 is the total blood found in 11 and 13 of the male ancestor 1. One-half of 21/16, or 21/32, is the quantity of male ancestral blood in group 18.

By comparing groups equidistant from the middle of the chart on the left and right, the breeder can determine the dominance over certain features that is possessed by the male or the female ancestors. Thus, a comparison of 15 and 17 will determine the question of prepotency as between the male and the female ancestor. The chart, in short, is a perfect and trustworthy guide in experimenting for the establishment of any feature desired in the offspring.

This system may be carried on for as many years as may be desired, pro-

Green Mt. Horse Assn. 100-Mile Trail Ride

Townsend Lady-O-Peace owned by Mrs. Roger Ela of Bolton, Mass. and ridden by her daughter Nancy, was declared the Sweepstakes and Lightweight Division winner in the Silver Anniversary Ride of the Green Mountain Horse Association.

Held August 31, September 1 to 3 at Woodstock, Vermont in the beautiful Green Mountains in almost perfect weather, it attracted horses and riders from thirteen states. Sixty-eight horses were entered and forty-nine finished.

The Heavyweight winner was Brig, a Thoroughbred gelding owned and ridden by James Rutherford of Honesdale, Penna. The Junior Division winner was Merryvale, a registered Morgan, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Nomas Reed of Plainfield, New Hampshire and ridden by Karen Wolfe of Brighton, Mass.

At the same time the Green Mountain Horse Association sponsored a Pleasure Ride with upward of 125 horses and riders - a competitive fifty miles ride for Juniors in which there were forty-four entries. These youngster's horses were judged on condition and then under rules set up to simulate the 100 Mile Ride as closely as possible.

It is felt that this ride does much to prepare the Juniors for participation in the longer and more arduous ride. SUMMARIES:

vided only mature females of marked vitality, having the best qualities desired, and males having similar qualities are used for breeding. Special care must be taken to keep the identification markings of the dogs in each group exact, because it is only by mating the dogs from the proper groups that the best results can be attained. If the identity of the dogs is lost, it will be impossible to continue the breeding system with any degree of certainty. (Hounds and Hunting)

A gentleman of our acquaintance had rather a tough time awhile back when he spent the weekend at the home of an ardent foxhunter, not knowing in advance that most of the time would be devoted to horses; following hounds or talking about them. Sometime later at a cocktail party he was asked by a charming young lady of the equestrian set what his hobby

"Hunting", he answered.

"Oh, do you mean foxhunting?" as she perked up. But he explained that it was shooting on foot, "And what do you shoot? she asked.

"Horses."

Piping Rock

Among the many physical improvements at Piping Rock, none were more appreciated by the exhibitors and spectators than the removal of the two story judges' and officials' stand from the center "great" ring to the outside. Before it was just about impossible to see the entire performance of a horse from any point, other than the stand. An improvement more important to the horses' performances was manager Honey Craven's newly designed permanent fences. It was possible to provide a variety of courses and changes of directions without the addition of "fly" fences except for the jumpers.

Hurricane Donna which hit three days before the show caused its full share of trouble. Stalls and tents which were already up had to be taken down. Not very much to their credit was the impatient attitude of some exhibitors who arrived before the stabling was set up again. The grandstand was still being put back together again and covered opening

Most important after effect as far as the riders were concerned was the necessity of cancelling schooling. Consequently the first day consisted mostly of "schooling rounds" which left much to be desired. Unfortunately, the performances didn't get much better as the show continued, in spite of there being some very good horses entered. The last day was particularly poor, which could be accounted for by the show's only rainy day. With some exceptions, the more conservative rounds seem to have the advantage.

Blue ribbons and points were so widely distributed in all hunter sections that the stake classes could have changed champions and reserves in almost every instance.

The regular conformation competition was light and the stake was the deciding factor in the tricolor awards. Since the Duke of Paeonian with Poppet Robinson up had one of the few clean rounds and was the winner, he gained the title over Irish Port who had a rail down and was fifth. The Sears' entry was ridden by Sandy Glynn.

The working hunter champion, Flying Curlew was about the most consistent hunter ribbon-wise. After winning the first performance class (amateur) with Althea Knickerbocker up, the grey gelding continued to catch the judges' eyes under regular rider Alan King, Jr. A win in the stake pulled Naute Mia, ridden by Mrs. Robert Schmid up to reserve.

Although, he ended up reserve to Mc-Lain St., ridden by John Bell, Windsor Castle and his petite rider, Kathy Kusner were the big attraction for the spectators. In the first two days of the three days of the three day Blitz competition Windsor Castle was the only horse to have clean rounds and in such a way as to make it look like no effort at all. On the third day over the 4'6 to 5' course the bay gelding was out of the ribbons so Miss Kusner, not to be thrwarted rode another Ballard entry Sonora to a 1/2 fault and the blue.

McLain Street, who had one fault on his first trip along with Colony Farm's Kings Hyway, had second conceded to him after a performance of 3 1/2 faults. This plus ribbons in the FEI classes in which Windsor Castle did not compete gave him the regular jumping title and the reserve Blitz title.

BIT O FATE

Ch. horse 1947

BIT O FATE won over $99,000. He raced hard, won 13, was in the money 34 times out of 60 starts. He won the Long Branch Handicap, equalling the track record for the mile and a sixteenth. He won the Quaker City; second to Alerted in Saratoga Cup; second to Cochise in Sussex. A sound horse through six years of hard racing against top horses. Bit O Fate stands 16.3 and looks like a heavy hunter. He is capable of siring show hunters as well as fast, high class runners. His sire, Wait A Bit, sired some of the country's top conformation horses, and this is his best son. Bit O Fate's first and second crop include winners of every foal class. They are handsome youngsters. His book was full his first year.

Dark Bay Gelding

7 years old - 16 hands

Open Jumper

$7500.00

This horse is a brilliant jumper and a consistent one. He has been shown in just three shows this season, such as Oak Brook, Grosse Pointe and Bloomfield, and was unable to go further this year due to his rider and trainer Gabor Foltenyi's unfortunate accident. In his three shows he has shown outstanding promise of becoming one of the top show jumpers around for many years to come.

St. Agathe

Following two weeks of brilliant Laurentian sunshine, the weatherman decided that "what was good for the crops" would benefit horse and rider. However, a day of steady downpour with intermittant showers failed to discourage either exhibitors or spectators; instead, it lent an air of informality which was quite refreshing.

The show, organized jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy and Mr. Kenneth Harrison in aid of the Local Childrens' Organizations, was a huge success. A field of sixty horses, mainly hunters and jumpers, made for well filled classes. The courses, in a lovely setting by the lake, were well built, the fences inviting, and many excellent rounds were seen over them. A note of interest was added by the presence of three members of the Olympic Equestrian Team, which was in training at Hudson, Quebec, prior to their departure for Rome, Brian Herbinson was on hand as a spectator, and Tom Gayford, aboard his versatile young mare

After the show, the exhibitors adjourned to a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Usher-Jones, which was followed by a dinner-dance at the Laurentide Inn. Thanks to the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Cardy, Mr. Harrison, and Mr. and Mrs. Usher-Jones, it was a thoroughly enjoyable show, one to be remembered for a long while. J. J.G.

The Delaware County Horse Show was remarkable for the fact that one could scarcely slide a whisker between the Champions and Reserves, which in all divisions, (except green working hunters) were separated by only one point in the final tally. In the Children's Division competition was not quite so tight, although there were no real walk-aways.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Paxson started winning back again the Alexander Memorial Challenge Trophy for Working Hunters, when their handsome gray, Flying Curlew, captured the championship with 17 points. The Paxsons reactivated the trophy this year, having won it in three previous years with their redoubtable Chappaqua.

Mrs. Joseph Ferguson had a miraculous escape in what looked to be one of the worst spills in local history. But ironically enough she was saved by Hurricane Donna, who had been dumping barrels of rain on the show grounds the final day (a dress rehearsal for her performance in the Philadelphia area the following day). Good "horse sense" also contributed to her escape. Martha was riding Bonne Gras in an open jumping class, when the mare, unable to get her footing, slid into the stone wall, reared and fell slowly over backward on top of Martha. From the other side of the ring, it looked as though the horse was entirely on top of her but actually was across her legs. Because of the heavy rain, petite Martha simply sank into the mushy tanbark, and the sensible mare did not struggle, never moved a muscle, until Martha was extricated. (It all seemed to take hours to the spectators.) Then, horse and rider up again, Martha mounted, took the jump, and continued to ride for the remainder of the show.

The most decisive victories in hunter divisions were toted up by Little B., owned by Mr. & Mrs. Henry C. Biddle, Jr., ridden by Mrs. Biddle, who trounced the Green Working Hunter division to the tune of 16 points, as compared to 8 compiled by the reserve champion, Mrs. Thomas Jenks' Sodbuster.

That size (and age too) does not necessarily mean everything in open jumpers, a division usually dominated by big horses, was proven when two small horses - even dainty - won the top tricolors. Champion was Natchez, a 15.3 hand 6-year-old chestnut gelding owned by Roy B. Snyder, ridden by Allen Garner to 16 points, while reserve was Sandpiper, who is at the point "where brook and river meet," being 14.2 hands, the dividing line between pony and horse. But, partly because his owner-rider, 18-year-old Miss Brooke Miller, is small herself, the 8-year-old gray gelding looks and performs "all ". Natchez, who is a beautifully well-set-up little thing, appears to have great promise, considering his youth.

Young Roddy Wanamaker nailed down two championships for his family, the most important of which was the Junior Working Hunter title, riding his sister Wendy's horse, Brave War. Thus he retired the trophy, which Wendy had won in 1958 and 1959 with the same horse. She has now crossed over the border from the Junior classification. Roddy also won the combined Pony Working Hunter championship with his own chestnut mare, Cathy, earning 15 1/2 points, to 12 gathered by Garn Wennol.

The show offered a "Lead and Ride" class for children, which unfortunately drew only one entry, that of Popcorn, ridden by Scott Smith, III, led by Terry Rudd, riding Dublin Kid. We are puzzled to know why there were not more entries. It is a most attractive class, and offers opportunity to junior riders to act as mentors for partners eight years old and under. Scotty and Terry rode beautifully, and were awarded the blue ribbon, although the class was adjudged as an "exhibition", since they were the only entry. M.L.S.

Russian Wins Olympic Dressage Gold Medal

Mrs. H. W. Inderwick

original entry of 22 to contest the Olympic Grand Prix de Dressage in Rome. The gold medal was won for Russia by Sergei Filatov, who beat the Swiss Gustav Fischer and the German Josef Neckermann, while Major St. Cyr of Sweden, winner at Helsinki in '52 and at Stockholm in '56, this time finished fourth.

The small entry was most disappointing. Many placed an ominous interpretation on the lack of interest, prophesying the complete elimination of this class in the future. One of the reasons given was that it was a reflection of the unfortunate fracas at Stockholm, when two of the judges were later removed from the international panel. This may have led to a loss of

Only 17 riders came forward from an grounds extremely pleasant. These were situated close to the show-ground, the Piazza de Siena, in the beautiful Borghese Gardens, where in the early mornings one could watch and learn from some of the best trained dressage horses in the faith in the whole system of judging now in use. I also think the world-wide shortage of good instructors, and present-day economics were contributory factors.

Prior to the contest, an almost visible cloud of prophesy, doubt and speculation hung over the scene. Clear, decisive judging would have dispersed this immediately; but unfortunately we were to be further confused by the fact that, although the judges took anything up to 15 min. a horse to compare and discuss their sheets, they issued neither marks nor placings to the public. This caused a great deal of dissatisfaction and a further three days were to pass before any classification was produced.

Rome itself did its best to dispel the gloom, giving us lovely, sunny days tempered by a light breeze. The horses were very well stabled, and the practice

This horse, an attractive dark chestnut, has a very good walk, but the other paces lacked impulsion at times and there was a tendency to accentuate one diagonal in all work at the trot. The difficult pirouettes at the canter were very well executed, and all changes correct and well delivered.

He was followed by Rath Patrick, which competed for Canada in the last Games. A quality brown gelding, he is now ridden by the diminutive Miss Patricia Galvin of the U.S. herself a pupil of St. Cyr. Her test was rather unsteady until the canter work. The horse broke several times and had no established piaffe, but once he settled there were some very attractive movements and he was ridden well and

The following rider, Frl Springer from Germany, was much more obvious in the use of her aids, finding it necessary to give her big chestnut, Doublette, some strong half-halts during transitions. All paces seemed rather short and the croup too high, except in the canter pirouettes which were very good.

Next horse was the big bay Wald from Switzerland ridden by Herr Fischer, who has a pleasing position in the saddle and good command of his aids. This is only a young horse who went with great zest yet was smooth and accurate. There was a tendency to over-bend at the walk and at times the passage appeared a little too fast, but the whole test gave one the impression of freedom with rhythm.

First British competitor was Mrs. Hall on her husband's Lipizzaner. She rode a rather cautious test, probably due to uncertainty as to the little horse's fitness. In fact a fit of coughing was to spoil his one time changes of lead. Nevertheless, his good basic training stood him in good stead in many movements and his rider looked most elegant.

The horse we were all waiting for, the black stallion Absent from Russia soon appeared only to disappoint in all the early work at the walk, later to make up for it by producing a well nigh perfect passage and piaffe with wonderful transitions between them. His canter was also excellent, showing true extension and smooth, correct changes. Even without marks to guide us, few had any doubts about his final placing.

Another good and active test followed, by the big Swedish chestnut Gaspari, ridden by Herr Viebke, who tended to be inaccurate as to markers and to show rather a lot of movement in the saddle.

The second U.S.A. entry was a Germanbred chestnut stallion ridden by Miss Jessica Newberry. Both the American riders are very young and show great promise for the future, but here Forstrat lacked polish and was disobedient. (Because she failed to connect with her horse until only a few minutes before entering the ring Miss Newberry unfortunately did not have sufficient time to warm him up).

Germany's second rider, Herr Neckermann, was unlucky enough to ride during the only shower of rain of the day. His mount, Asbach, has a rather shortened head-carriage and showed some resistance by swishing his tail throughout his test. He was, however, very correct and accurate and particularly good in the more advanced movements.

Chammartin of Switzerland came next, on an attractive chestnut, Wolfdietrich. His near perfect seat helped him to put up a light and supple performance. This horse has an excellent head-carriage and was very calm, but is inclined to cross his fore-legs in piaffe and seemed to lack the brilliance we have come to expect from this talented rider.

As he left, Mrs. V. D. S. Williams of Great Britain on Little Model walked in.

Both he and his rider looked immaculate and serene. The art of training dressage horses for competitions is like that of training race horses, the aim being to produce them fit and ready on the day. No doubt that this had been achieved here. There was rhythm and polish throughout the whole test, a high-class performance by a straight and level horse, which, despite minor weaknesses, earned much sincere praise.

Last horse of real interest was another stallion from Russia, the chestnut Korbery ridden by Ivan Kalita. He had shown better work on the practice grounds. Like his compatriot his walk was poor, but apart from missing one change, most of his test was very good indeed.

Second Day

We heard that night that he was to join Absent. Etoile. Wald and Asbach the next morning for the final judging. Again no marks were published, as the final decision was not to be made until after the showing of a film being taken that morning. One cannot help feeling that this procedure is a somewhat clumsy way of judging, and that an instantaneous decision, preferably without comparison, might be worth trying and would certainly give more pleasure to the general supporters of these classes.

Next morning, Absent, though appearing a little fresh at times, confirmed his position with another brilliant performance. Wald could not emulate this and seemed rather overwhelmed by the occasion, making several mistakes, missing some of the changes and nearly forgetting the course. Despite this, he retained the freedom he displayed on the first day and, although dropping 17 marks on his previous score, was still five marks better than Asbach. This horse also failed to improve on his overnight score, and in fact received about 60 less, although many preferred his second performance. Thus the three medallists finished in that order. The second Russian seemed hardly marked to stand fifth. Results: I. Sergei Filatov (Russia) Absent (1074 first day, 1070 second); 2. Gustav Fischer (Switzerland) Wald (1052, 1035); 3. Josef Neckermann (Germany) Asbach (1071, 1011); 4. H. St. Cyr (Sweden) Etoile (1036, 1028); 5. Ivan Kalita, (Russia) Korbery (1010, 997); 6. Miss P. Galvin (U.S.A.) Rath Patrick (995); 7. Frl. R. Springer (Germany) Doublette (985); 8. H. Chammartin (Switzerland) Wolfdietrich (978); 9. Y. Viebke (Sweden) Gaspari (975); 10. A. Nogueira (Portugal) Greek Warrior (948); 11. Mrs. V. D. S. Williams (Gt. Britain) Little Model 9939); 12, Miss J. Newberry (U.S.A.) Forstrat (927); 13. Mrs. Hall (Gt. Britain) Conversano Caprice (838); 14. F. Sembera (Czechoslovakia) Ivo (832). 17 competed.

New Zealand "Pony of the Year"

The title, "Pony of the Year", is decided at the "Horse of the Year" show in New Zealand, when all the champions of the current season meet to do battle for national honours. It is a title unconnected with Pony Club honours, though, of course it would be possible for the "Pony of the Year" to win the Dorothy Campbell cup, which is the trophy for the best rider and horse (or pony) under 17 vears. On performance, this season, it looks as if the two titles could be won by the same pony, Omego.

A skewbald stallion, Omego stands 13.3 hands, and is eight years old. Despite his 55 inches in height he has cleared 63 inches. His owner-rider is Warwick Willson, the 15-year-old fourth son in a family of six riding sons and one baby daughter. Omego comes from the same district as the thrice Six Bar winner, Avalanche.

Omego has represented his district with an older brother on the Pony Club Championship, and finished up eighth in 1958. Last year with Warwick, Omego knocked himself out against a tree-trunk after successfully negotiating a jump in the Cross Country section of the Three Day Event trials deciding the representatives for his district.

This year Omego and Warwick have made the team to go forward to the National Championships. At the local Trials their Dressage was not up to their usual, excused perhaps by the fact that they were last to go of forty entrants. But in the Cross Country they were clear in the fastest time, including that of the horses for the Senior Pony Club event, the "A.I. Cup". And he was clear in the Show-jumping phase.

An older brother, Fraser, has a mount, Vulcan, black, with a large irregular blaze, Sired by Omego, he often competes against his father, but rarely has the skewbald allowed his son to beat him, though he generally sees that second place is his portion.

In the Preliminary of the "Pony of the Year", Omego was third, but in the final he was the only competitor to have a clear round in the jump-off among three to be clear in the second round. Omego had the fastest time, too.

It will be a disappointment and a surprise to many, other than the Willson family, if Warwick and Omego do not carry off the Dorothy Campbell Cup this year. We'll let you know the results. Joyce Wellwood

FERMOY FAIR

The morning of July twenty-seventh dawned with a threatening sky but the sheer beauty of the Tipperary countryside fortified us for the long drive ahead.

This was the day of the Fermoy Fair which features a horse show and the judging of cattle, sheep, and dogs, not unlike our Maryland County fairs. Displays of farm machinery, the arts and crafts, along with the culinary delights of the local gentry were spread over a wide area surrounding an old ruined distillery opened to the skies. Horse boxes and trailers unloaded their charges in a sea of mud. The children aboard their stout little ponies took over the main ring after the judging of the brood mares and young stock, By this time, the heavens opened but the spunky young contestants carried on,

The first class consisted of pony hacks 14.2 and under to be ridden by children under sixteen. Judging from their size, I doubt if any had passed the age of twelve. The winner, "Moby Dick", was a bay gelding with excellent action and conformation ridden by Edward O'Grady. This ten year old is worth remembering as he is a consistent winner in the local shows. He won the next class as well which called for ponies 13 hands and under on an exquisite little gray named "Darby O'Gill". This pony is by an Arabian out of a small mare of unknown pedigree.

There were no registered stock among either horses or ponies in this show. Their outstanding ability in the jumping classes which followed, merely proves that the Irish put their faith in performance rather than pedigree. When I looked at the height of the obstacles resembling those in the great Dublin show, I marvelled at the ease with which these well schooled mounts negotiated four foot walls, double oxers, triple bars and a mean looking in and out all without benefit of wings. Scarcely a refusal or knock-down despite the treacherous going. No doubt, the intrepid Irish are accustomed to the inclement weather as no one was heard to complain and the rails were packed with enthusiastic spec-E.H.F. tators.

Brookville Junior

Very little will keep the junior exhibitor from his horse shows. In spite of the day long 90 degree heat, there were few scratches in the Brookville Junior Show. As usual, things were hectic as the management attempted to keep the numerous conflicts from slowing up the show. This required some doing since there were classes being held in three rings as well as the outside course. Tanbark

Green Spring Hounds Pony Club Camp

The Green Spring Hounds Pony Club held an Instruction Camp for a week in August at the old Y. M. C. A. camp grounds in Butler, Maryland. The Pony Clubbers - 48 strong - ranging in age from 10 to 17 and in ability from D's to A's, arrived with their ponies and horses their tack - stable equipment - their own oats (hay and straw were provided) - their clothes - mostly blue jeans and riding clothes - and their own bedding (beds, matresses and cabins were also provided).

The first day was spent registering and getting settled. A great deal of time was put in at the stable area while the youngsters got their trusting steeds comfortable in the rented "temporary" stalls. Groups were divided by age and ability and a heavy schedule was assigned each group.

The days seemed hardly long enough. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Asmis handled the instruction. There were two daily riding periods for everyone and scheduled times for feeding, cleaning stalls, cleaning tack, policing cabins and learning to braid. Everyone ate together at the same time in a large dining hall and each group had at least an hour to swim. In the evening there were talks by Mr. Asmis, movies on horses and horsemanship and informal record hops. After the first night, when excitement was at its height, everyone was so tired they went off to bed, not only willingly, but quietly and happily.

Mrs. Donald Hebb, the D. C., masterminded the whole idea of the instruction camp with the assistance of some of the parents. A tremendous amount of work had to be done as the camp had not been used for three years and was somewhat in a state of disrepair. However it had the essentials and the recreation and dining halls were large and comfortable. The food, which was supplied by a couple who have a small catering business, was delicious. The Pony Clubbers paid a nominal fee to attend the camp and all the Pony Clubs in Maryland were invited to send their members. Four pony clubs were represented. The emphasis was entirely on instruction, learning and improving. There were no awards and no penalties. Mrs. Hebb was everywhere at once, helping everyone and settling any problems. In fact the pass words were 'Ask Mrs. Hebb" and without her organization none of it could have been.

In front of the "Rec" Hall was a temporary ring loaned by the Maryland Pony Show Committee. Unfortunately due to several very rainy days the ring was too deep and wet to be used. Mr. Asmis took his groups across the stream to a large field and worked them, even in the drizzle. Everyone learned a lot and the riding noticeably improved. The stable work became more efficient as the children learned why they should do things in the proper Pony Club way. Donny Hebb and Jack Vordemberge, associate members, organized a group of older boys, who had been Pony Clubbers or who were 4-H members and interested in horses and country things, to do all the odd jobs around camp that were so necessary, both before camp started and during the week. They were particularly helpful in the stable area where they set a fine example for the young ones. The Green Spring Pony Club has been fortunate to have such active associate members. The associates have thrived on the responsibility heaped upon them and the youngsters have profited greatly from their association with the older members. The camp established a bond between all age groups and it was interesting to watch how well they all got along to-

It was a very profitable week for everyone and even the exhausted parents who acted as chaperones were heard to say they'd volunteer their services for a two week period next year. The ideal of the "thoroughly happy comfortable pony clubber, riding with complete confidence a pony equally happy and confident" was greatly in evidence throughout the week. A. G.

Johnston Memorial Tournament

The week-end of September 17 and 18, 1960, marked another exciting chapter in the history of polo for enthusiasts of Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania with the Third Annual Chad Johnston Memorial Polo Tournament.

In the last few seconds of the sixth chukker a goal was made by Stan Strouss, breaking a 9-9 tie and bringing the coveted trophy to the Mahoning Valley Polo Club for the first time.

It all began many years ago - about thirty - when Chad Johnston, who owned and operated The Johnston Company, a hardware store which has been a Mahoning Valley landmark since anyone can remember, gathered a few young men together in his pasture in back of the store. It was there that he instructed, encouraged and furnished equipment to these young men and brought into being the first polo teams. In return for his help these boys helped in Chad's stables or did chores in the store. As time went on others in the vicinity, from Salem, Ohio - from Alliance, Ohio - and from Darlington, Pennsylvania, joined in the fun and many members playing today on these teams got their start with Mr. Johnston. Once the games were started on regular schedule, polo has been contimuous and every year since then, there has been a Poland Polo Club, lately called Mahoning Valley Polo Club.

Mr. Johnston played actively on the team until 1952, but continued to coach "his boys" until he passed away, at 62 years, on December 20, 1957.

How his enthusiasm must have guided the game is evidenced in the teams still competing, as each team schedules twenty to thirty games each season.

In his honor the Chad Johnston Memorial Polo Tournament was started in September of 1958, and a beautiful trophy began its journey. There are smaller trophies each year for the runners-up teams of course, but the competition is keen to bring home this most important and cherished of loving cups.

In 1958 the Cleveland Polo Club was the happy team to win, and as the tournament was such a success, plans were immediately made to make this an annual affair.

In 1959 Beaver Valley and Mahoning Valley were eliminated on the first day of the two-day tournament, and the Cleveland and Salem clubs were battling hard to break a 5-5 tie in the sixth chukker of the final game. It was then that Jack Arnold, of Salem, fell, and the excited crowd soon knew that this was more than just a spill. Jack's mount, Handy - owned by Joe Botak - had literally died with his polo shoes on, in the middle of the field. The game was called, and no winner was declared in 1959.

The 1960 tournament got off to a damp start at 2 o'clock on Saturday, September 17th, with Mahoning Valley and Salem playing hard to get into the "Big Game" on Sunday. Ed Roberts, Mahoning Valley captain, took a bad spill in the second chukker, while Salem had a 5-0 lead, As the fall was not serious, Captain Roberts resumed play and led his team to a 16-11 score. During this game bad luck played no favorites and Lloyd Brunner of Salem sustained a bad hit on the arm.

The second game on Saturday, Cleveland won over Beaver Valley with an 8-6 score, one of the best games the spectators had ever seen. On Sunday, September 18th, the consolation game between Salem and Beaver Valley started at 2 o'clock, ending with Beaver Valley the winners, 19-4. Mrs. Roberta Crum presented the "Consolation Cup" donated by the Crum Stables.

Though the day was dull, with just a fine drizzle of rain now and then, the Championship game was far from dull. Both teams were determined to win, and evenly matched. At the end of the first chukker there was no score, then Cleveland scored the first four goals in the second. Mahoning Valley was further plagued when Crum took a bad spill in the second.

Mahoning Valley then turned on the heat and scored four in the third to Cleveland's one, so that at the half it was 5-4 in favor of Cleveland. The fifth chukker Mahoning Valley scored again with four, and it was still anybody's game. Early in the sixth chukker, Cleveland evened the score to 9-9 and the battle rangel.

In the last seconds of play, all the teamwork that Chad Johnston had taught his beloved club came into play, and Stan Strouss scored the win.

A well-coordinated University of Virginia polo team opened its fall season with an unexpected, 12-1, upset over Winchester on Oct. 2 at Brook Hill Farm, Charlottesville.

Scoring in every chukker, the Cavaliers had little trouble riding over their highly-rated opponents. Captain Will Farish, a junior from Houston, Texas, was high scorer with seven goals.

The aggressive University trio jumped out in front as Farish took the opening toss-in through the uprights to score. Minutes later he tallied again to set the pace for the entire game.

Don Grubbs, riding in the number one for Virginia, demonstrated outstanding teamwork in defense as well as offense throughout all six chukkers. Early in period two he intercepted a Winchester knock-in, back-handing it to Claxton Long who tapped in the point,

Soon afterward, Farish broke up a Winchester foul shot and relayed to his pivot man. With a fine display of mallet work, Long carried the ball the length of the field single-handed to score. He collected four goals in the course of the Winchester's only score came late in the fourth chukker as hardriding John Day brought the ball to the posts. Bob Berry, Winchester's number one, picked up a defensive shot on the side-lines and sliced an under-the-neck drive through the uprights to put his team in the scoring column.

But the apparently untiring Cavaliers continued the onslaught through the second half.

Farish, who recently finished a round of six intercircuit tournaments with the Aiken, S.C., polo club, never relented. Playing hard and fast, he collected in every

Salem clinched the match in the first half, when the score was 5-3. The Salem team scored one free shot for Lancaster's foul of crossing on the line of ball, and Lancaster then scored two goals in this chukker (the 4th). Neither team scored a goal in the fifth and sixth chukkers, in a fast defensive game, it seemed from the

With Day, Cussen, and Berry battling to tighten the gap in the final period, the University malletmen poured on the steam. Relaying the ball back and forth, Grubbs and Farish thundered down the field with Grubbs riding off a Winchester defender as the high-scoring Texan slanted in his sixth point early in the chukker.

Dick Latham came in for Long in the last period making his initial appearance at Brook Hill Farm. The Dallas, Texas, sophomore scored from 40 yards out on a well-executed play from the middle.

With seconds left in the game, Farish raced across the goal and blasted in a nearside under-the-belly shot to close the scoring at 12-1.

Off to a spectacular beginning of their fall season at Brook Hill, each of the determined Cavaliers showed that he had learned something from steady practice and competition during the summer. None had not forgotten the game-winning teamwork that has led to their two past successful seasons.

Lancaster won the Labor Day game against Salem, Ohio, by a score of 11-9. Junior Turns and Ben Forney led the winning attack with five and four goals respectively. Gilbert Miller and Jack Ehmer each chipped in with one goal.

Jim Bahr scored twice for Salem, Ohio, while Jack Arnold also scored twice and Lloyd Brunner tallied three. Salem was given a goal on a No. 1 penalty against Lancaster. To help Salem, Jack Ehmer of Lancaster Team started down the field, scoring a goal for Salem, as he was headed for the wrong goal posts. Lancaster snapped out of its jinx, and scored in each chukker successively. Junior Turns was high scoring man for this Labor Day game, with a total of five goals to his credit. 121212

Herbie Pennell, the five-goaler who has been manager of such as the Pittsfield (Mass.) and Meadowbrook (L.I.) polo clubs, put on a one-man show as the Blind Brook All-Stars pulled from 'way behind to beat host Giant Valley in the first game of the fall season at Leonard Field in Wallingford, Conn., Sept. 25.

Riding at No 2 in the trio - Adie von Gontard was at No. 1 and George Skakal was at back - Pennell knocked in eight of that team's 10 goals in a 10-8 victory.

Driving two penalty shots home from the 60-yard mark and two more on smashes from the midfield area, Pennell was easily the outstanding man on the field. He scored two in the first chukker, to keep Blind Brook even with Giant Valley. Then, after two blank periods during which the host trio galloped out to a 7-2 lead with four goals by Yale coach Al Marenholz as the feature, he paced a furious second-half rally which succeeded.

In a furiously-played final chukker which opened with Blind Brook ahead 8-7, Pennell fed vonGontard for a lofted tally from 35 yards, broke up all but one Giant Valley scoring tries - a tap-in by the veteran Frank Butterworth - and then added a last goal with less than two in that fence, and who is willing to share her interests passively, if not actively. Then, you'll find Susan walking - no, not riding - to the altar.

As for the parents, sure, let's get them on horseback. However, let's mount them with their children, not after!

What I think "Sourpuss" needs, is to watch some of the children Susan rides with. Carol, for instance, who after a fall was so determined to ride, that though all color drained from her face each time she mounted a horse, worked ardently for a year, until finally overcoming her apprehensions, won her first postaccident blue ribbon. Also, Lora, who while schooling her pony was dumped so many times, I lost count. Lora shed many tears of despair and humiliation, but through those tears, could be seen the development of a determination in her character that makes her an asset to any horse show.

Many of these children don't have the opportunity or thrill of being in the ribbons, but they do exist, and it is this writers belief that they far far outnumber the Susie's, with Mommy and Poppy, and pocketbook, who are so noticeable at shows.

So "Sourpuss", look again at your next show, or on your next ride, and see if, behind "Susie" and her expensive, wellschooled mount, you don't find hardworking, determined Susan, on her maybe not too well schooled, but dependable friend.

Help

Sept. 10, 1960

Dear Sirs

In the interest of our sport, I would like to ask your help and that of all your readers.

The Olympic games are over in Rome. For 12 days I read the reports in the daily papers. I read of every aspect, from the romances of the track men to the emotions of the decathelon men. Every event, no matter how big or small the audience is for it at home, has been covered.

But I have yet to find a single word in the papers or magazines about the equestrian events in Rome. We stand a very good chance of winning a gold medal yet I won't know about it until I receive The Chronicle. Where does the fault lie? I believe that it is with the major news services. Their reporters are not covering ALL the news. But more so it is with us. We have not let the papers know that there is an audience very much interested in the equestrian events. We should all write our papers and tell them so. I feel sure that if the public knew more of our team (or even that there is such a thing) we would receive a great many more contributions.

But thank you for excellent coverage of all USET news.

Sincerely.

Mrs. Richard Amis Coker Hartsville, South Carolina

Olympic Observation

Dear Sir:

One of my observations after watching the Olympics, namely the Prix des Nations, was "what next?"

I would be one of the first to agree that we have now one of the foremost teams in the world. I say now.

But what do we do four, or eight years from now? I can name only four or five riders who have the necessary international experience that one needs to negotiate an Olympic course, whereas Britain has anywhere from eight to ten riders who are capable. Most of them have ridden overseas at one time or another, thus gaining the necessary experience.

I can only suggest that we send a team of five or six, instead of the former four riders. These extra riders could be rotated from time to time, thus providing us with a "strong bench", as it were.

Before this can be accomplished, I believe that the training methods used here in the U, S, must be improved. Many instructors are able to teach very little to their pupils, due to a lack of knowledge of theory. In short, too many people know how, and too few people know why!

To quote from Lt. Col. H. D. Chamberlin - "The correct principles of equitation and horse training are in themselves simple and well defined, and easily within the comprehension of any intelligent mind."

> Sincerely yours, James C. Wofford

Mosby on Tuesday to capture a mile and seven eighths test over hurdles. Winning just as easily, Paddy Smithwick guided the four-year-old *Endeavor 2nd - War Candy gelding over the wire twenty lengths before the runner-up, Mrs. Stephen Clark, Jr.'s Sunny Celt. Miss Eleo Sears' Auriate was a well beaten third, with Welstead fourth. Midway through this race, Richer by Far, the second choice, came a cropper with Ronnie Cartwright, but neither horse now rider were hurt.

The J. S. Harrison

An upset occurred on Wednesday, when Barclay Stable's Irish import, *Ballybrittas scored by two lengths under Evan Jackson, and paid a $48.60 mutuel. The Race was the J. S. Harrison at two miles and a furlong over the larger jumps, and was named for the popular rider who lost his life some years ago in an accident at Belmont. Nine went postward and it was a thrilling race all the way. Two spills occurred, one at the first fence when Jimmy Murphy came off of Mystical Gem, and at the fifth where a bobble unseated Scottie Riles on Versus. Meanwhile the pace was carried by Glencannon, and then by Lord Mike. The latter still held command nearing the final fence on the far side, but after a series of jumps where he got in deep, he began to tire and a knot of horses went by him. Midway around the turn, Easy Timer, a 60 to 1 shot racing for Randolph Rouse emerged as the leader, but he gave way rounding into the front side and at the final fence, Bureaucracy and the eventual winner ranged up on equal terms, and then headed him. In a furious drive to the wire, the Barclay horse increased his advantage and went on to a two length score with Bureaucracy the runner-up, three lengths to the fore of Basil Bee, which ran an even race most of the trip while in the thick of contention. Easy Timer faded back to fourth, four of five lengths in front of the tired Lord Mike.

It was the second riding victory for Evan Jackson in this event, which, together with Paddy Smithwick, gives each rider two legs on the cup which has to be won three times by the same rider for permanent possession.

Final infield race of the week went to Allison Stern's veteran campaigner, Greek Brother. Ridden by Bob McDonald, the seven-year-old gelding was held close to the pace set first by Shining Bright and then Nizam's Pet. Taking a slight lead around the final turn Greek Brother withstood a determined challenge from Freschal. Gaining the advantage at the last jump, Greek Brother drew out in the stretch run but tired in the last hundred yards and just lasted to defeat Freschal by half a length. Joe Aitcheson, who rode Freschal lodged a claim of interference against the winner, claiming his mount had been carried wide on the final turn, and then bothered somewhat over the last hurdle when the winner started drifting out. His objection had some merit, but not enough to warrant a disqualification so the result stood. Third place went to Cool Warrior, which had a rough trip of it in the early stages, and closed best of all to get within three parts of a length of Freschal at the wire. Arbywood Stable's Hindrance, after being well out of it for most of the way, closed a lot of ground in the last half mile and was fourth.

WALTER JEFFORDS

Walter Morrison Jeffords, one of the great sportsmen of his generation, and a leader in racing and foxhunting, died at his home at Glen Riddle, Pa. on September 28th at the age of 77. In addition to having been Master of Mr. Jeffords' Hounds for more than a quarter of a century, founder and president of the Grayson Foundation, and president of the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga, he and Mrs. Jeffords bred and raced during the past 40 years many of the leading Thoroughbreds in this country. He is survived by his wife, Sarah Dobson Fiske, a niece of the late Mrs. Samuel D. Riddle; by his son, Walter M. Jeffords, Jr., currently Master of Mr. Jeffords' Hounds; and by three grandsons. As a foxhunter Mr. Jeffords bred Penn-Marydel Hounds and maintained a pack of black and tans which were frequent winners at the Bryn Mawr and other shows. He and Mrs. Jeffords shared a love of horses, hunting and racing, registering their colors in 1916 and 1918 respectively. Their mares were maintained at the Faraway Farm, Fayette County, Ky. and the young stock raised and trained at the Glen Riddle Farm, Berlin, Md. The fact that they were able to breed to Man o' War, which Mr. Riddle maintained largely as a private stallion, contributed greatly to the success of their foundation stock. The Jeffords' colors were carried to victory four times in the classic Coaching Club American Oaks by Florence Nightingale (1925), Edith Cavell (1926), Bateau (1928), and Creole Maid (1938). Undoubtedly the best race horse which they bred was Pavot (Case Ace-Cocquelicot, by Man o' War), unbeaten as a two-year-old and winner of The Futurity; as a threeyear-old he showed his ability to get a distance of ground winning the Belmont Stakes and The Jockey Club Gold Cup, In recent years Mr. Jeffords' best performers have been Piano Jim (*Bernborough-Blue Denim, by Blue Larkspur), winner of the Laurel Handicap and frequently placed in stakes. Other great race horses were Kiss Me Kate, champion 3-year-old filly of 1951, and One Count, (Count Fleet-Ace Card, by Case Ace) Horse of the Year of 1952.

Mr. Jeffords was the third oldest member of The Jockey Club (1925) being junior only to F. Ambrose Clark (1919) and George D. Widener (1916). He was on its board of stewards from 1941 to 1949. He was also a member of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. In 1950 and 1952 he received the honorary awards of The Thoroughbred Club of America and the New York Turf Writers' Association. Mr. Jeffords was elected president of the Grayson Foundation, a group devoted to the study of equine diseases, in 1946, serving through 1952.

He became president of the National Museum of Racing at Saratoga in 1954, a position which he held at the time of his death. Mr. Jeffords was particularly suited for this office, having been an avid collector all his life of early American silver and early paintings of horses. His collection of portraits by Troye is undoubtedly the finest in existence and he also collected equestrian paintings by American artists such as de Lattre and other more primitive painters. Under his leadership the present Museum building was constructed, the final wing in 1959-1960 and the collection of portraits of horses and people connected with Thoroughbred racing tremendously expanded, together with other racing memorabilia.

A most charming and interesting companion, he will be sorely missed.

Spirit of 1776

August 15th marked the fourteenth anniversary of the inauguration of the lip tattoo as a means of identifying Thoroughbreds. It was on that date in 1946 that Alfred Vanderbilt's Yankee Dollar was tattooed at Saratoga. Since then more than 75,000 Thoroughbreds have been branded in this manner and the system is still going strong. What they do is tattoo a letter indicating the year of foaling and then the last four numbers of the Jockey Club registration number inside the horse's upper lip. The point of all this is, of course, to make identification of the horse positive since the animal cannot go around changing his upper lip when he wants.

As a measure of the efficacy of the tattoo in preventing the substitution of one horse for another on the track, it is said that, in the first 7 1/2 months of 1946, there were 22 ringers discovered at various tracks in the United States. After the inauguration of the lip tattoo, it is said there were none. If you analyze that for a moment, it means either that the lip tattoo is a dandy way of eliminating ringers or it is not at all effective because they haven't caught any ringers since it was put into effect, Somehow or another, I'd feel a little more convinced if they just caught one little tiny old ringer by means of the lip tattoo instead of just a flat none at all. It's like the perfect crime. If it was perfect, nobody would ever know a crime had been committed.

Whether it has actually eliminated ringers or just made it impossible to catch them, the lip tattoo has been very effective in identifying lost, strayed, and stolen horses and getting them back to their rightful owners. It also provides a means of identifying them for all sorts of other things too like settling insurance claims, checking the identity of horses shipped out of the country, keeping the records straight in the breeding shed, and things like that.

The lip tattoo is mandatory at all TRA tracks. It has gained enough stature so that, when a tattoo includes an inverted number or some other "typographical" error, the Jockey Club registration certificate is torn up and a new one issued with the number the way it actually is on the horse.

A horse named War Spirit has the number J1776. That's what you call coordinated effort. R. J. Clark

HIALEAH STAKES

President Eugene Mori has announced a stakes program for the 1961 Hialeah meeting, totalling $585,000, headed by the $100,000 added Widener Handicap on February 18th for older horses and the $100,000 added Flamingo Handicap on February 25th for 3-year-olds,

Raleigh Burroughs

their mare, Yes She Wi

The result was the stakes winner, Yes You Will. He won the Jennings Handicap at Pimlico late in 1959 and the Abraham Lincoln and John B. Campbell Memorial at Bowie early in '60, and the Carter a little later at Aqueduct.

His earnings are getting close to the $200,000 mark.

And then there is My Dear Girl, one of the best two-year-old fillies of 1959. My Dear Girl won the Gardenia Stakes at Garden State Park, worth $79,304 and the Frizette ($59,991). Also there was Wedlock, winner of the 1959 Kentucky Oaks, and Conestoga that took the Ventnor, Atlantic City and King Neptune Handicap's at Atlantic City this season and recently was sold for "a figure reported to be in six digits."

Mr. Nechamkin is standing in shallows and miseries every time he thinks of the offer he rejected.

Today, the horse whose services Messrs. O'Farrell were trying to give away stands for a fee of $5,000 (book full for 1961).

Two shares in the horse changed hands at the time of the Saratoga Sales for $35,000.

"TRES GAI"

The Delaware County Horse Show had a delightful misprint in its program when it called for "Junior Hunters in Paris." We were ready to catch the next plane to join them in a canter down the Bois de Bologne.

A recent report in The Chronicle referred to Trailoka, dam of Trail Guide on which Frank Chapot rode to the best score for the U.S. in the Rome Olympics Prix des Nations, as a reserve horse of the U. S. Three Day Team in the 1936 Olympics. Mrs. Carl Raguse quite rightly calls us to task pointing out that the mare, not only competed, but finished the Three Day Event at that time, when she was ridden by Col. Raguse. The official report of the 1936 Games contains a photograph showing the Colonel afloat in midstream, but hanging on to Trailoka.

GERMAN 3 DAY COMPETITORS

Germany was proud over their team's accomplishments in the field of jumping and dressage, disappointed however, over their big flop in the 3-day event.

Ottokar Pohlmann rode only for himself and not for the team. He rode Polarfuchs so excessively hard in the field, the completely exhausted horse refused his obstacles. His injuries will eliminate him for further 3-day events completely.

Wagner's horses were too green and inexperienced for such an event. Furthermore, prior to the games, expert horsemen had quite a tiff with the Olympic officials for not entering H. G. Winkler's Thoroughbred mare Bellona with Luetke-Westhues in the irons. Both were experienced, Bellona won the German 3-day trials. Most likely many other participants and officials learned from their mistakes. M.P.J.

U. S. TEAM FOR FALL CIRCUIT

Following their successful campaign at summer European shows, the Olympic Games, and the World Championship at Venice, the horses and riders of the U.S. Team have returned to this country. William Steinkraus, riding Ksar d'Esprit, was one of the four chosen to jump-off for the World Jumping Championship, an event in which the riders change horses. Unfortunately he had a bad fall on the English horse Sunsalve and broke his left collarbone, putting him fourth in the event. This means that he will not be available to ride in the three C.H.I.O. shows this fall at Harrisburg, New York and Toronto. The riders who will represent this country are Hugh Wiley, George Morris and Frank Chapot. They will have available Ksar d'Esprit, Nautical, Master William, Trail Guide, Tally-Ho, Night Owl, High Noon and Diamant, Riviera Wonder, Sinjon and Pike's Peak have gone back to their owners - Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Mann, Miss Ellen Dineen and Miss Eleo Sears.

JOBIE ARNOLD

Jobie Arnold, a frequent and valued correspondent of The Chronicle, has been making a name for herself in a different field - handicapping race horses. Competing against seven professional men on the Cincinnati, Ohio papers plus the Daily Racing Form, her selections for the 44day River Downs Meeting early this summer were second in number of winners and first in number of horses in the money. For the late summer meeting at River Downs she led all selectors, picking 100 winners and the winners of the last four races on the last day. She is turf correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirier.

NEWBERRY BUYS COLPRIN

Miss Jessica Newberry, who represented the United States in the Grand Prix de Dressage at the Rome Olympics, has recently pruchased from Mrs. M. H. Tollit in England, his breeder, the 3year-old Thoroughbred gelding Colprin. The colt has been shipped to Denmark to be trained by Liz Hartel's instructor, Gunnar Andersen, who has also been instructing Miss Newberry for the past year.

ELAINE KNIGHT

Friends of Miss Elaine Knight of West Wing, Avon, N.Y., are glad to see her riding in shows again. She was badly injured in a fall at the Skaneateles Horse Show a few years ago and was unable to ride for some time. Recently she purchased a lovely brown mare, Bull Wind, from Professional Frank Snyder. Frank, who was one of the country's top show riders a decade or so ago, is coaching her and the mare who is a first year green hunter.
